Expectations

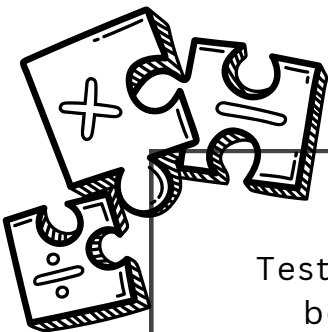

- BRING THE REQUIRED MATERIALS TO CLASS DAILY.
- SHOW RESPECT TO OTHERS
- USE YOUR PLANNER AND DO YOUR BEST!

Homework is given to reinforce the concepts that are being taught/reviewed in class. Homework that is turned in late (the day after it is due) will be worth half credit. Students are expected to show all work when doing their math homework. Assignments that just have the answers will receive a zero.
3 missed homework assignments in a quarter will result in after school detention

Homework

Planners are being provided to 6th grade students. It is expected that students copy the agenda for the week from the whiteboard in this planner each Monday. The planner will be used in every class.

There will not be a homework sheet sent home and I do not have a Remind.

Tests- Standards Based Assessments

Tests will be given throughout each quarter. A test will also be given from the P.O.D. packet that students work on daily as they enter the classroom.

P.O.D (Problem of the Day) packets are to be kept in student binders at all times.

Classwork/Quizzes – Formative Assessments

Formative assessments can include any classwork, quiz, notebook quiz, or other class assignments that are given. Any classwork/worksheets that are not completed in class can be finished at home for extra practice.

Missed Assignments due to Absences

If a student misses any test or quiz due to an absence, they will need to make it up as soon as possible. All homework assignments missed due to an absence will receive full credit when they are completed in a timely manner and turned it in. There will be a grade of 0 listed in the gradebook until the assignment has been made up. This grade will be changed as work is turned in.

Work can be found in Schoology, your planner or on the assignment board in the classroom
